ID.	Category of personal data	Source of the data	Why we process it	How long we keep this data	Our lawful basis for processing	Details relating to lawful basis (where applicable)	Special category grounds	Special category- details of public interest etc (where appropriate)	Criminal conviction/criminal allegation grounds	Criminal conviction/criminal allegation grounds (further information)
1	Names, contact information, the dates and nature of inquiries relating to visitors, enquires, researchers and donors to, and borrowers from, our library and archives and other collections. Records include the contact details of applicants for access to the College library and archives, records of applications including the reasons for the application, the nature of the records requested and the access granted. Records may include disability information if this is relevant to accessibility of the library and archive. It may also include information about the reasons for the researcher's interest, which may refer for example to their religion or belief.	We obtain this data from you we generate this data about you	To maintain a record of how our library collections and archives have been used and who has previously used them, so that we can monitor the use and integrity of our library collections and archives. It is useful to refer back to earlier enquiries on similar topics. This information is also retained for the security of the collections.	Permanently, except for disability information provided to us solely for accessibility purposes, which will be retained for 12 months after your last contact with us.	for the purposes of our		Processing is necessary for compilance with equality law (Substantial public interest under the UK Data Protection Act)	In the case of processing disability data relevant for access requirements, the processing is necessary for the provention of a breach of its obligations under the Equality Act 2010. The processing is necessary for reason of substantial public interest, namely that the College must comply with its statutory obligations concerning equality and to make reasonable adjustments. Such processing must be carried out without consent so as not to prejudice those purposes. In the case of other special category data, the processing is necessary for archining and/or scientific or historical research purposes, and is in the public interest.
2	Records of College cultural life: photographs, pictures, written records, trophies, other memorabilia and ephemera of college members, teams, choirs, clubs and societies, plays and performances, of participation in events and sporting fixtures and of the outcomes. This may include written correspondence and minute books relating to these matters.		As part of the College archive recording College life, which may be relevant to you individually (for example if you later request a reference from us), but which is also part of the College's own record of what its members have achieved over time.	Permanently.	Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life.	for archiving purposes in the public interest as permitted under the	There is a public interest in the College maintaining its archive of College life for future generations, and in the context of the College being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The LIX Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diadrage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes of mowthich the processing is necessary include the purposes of approved medical research.	condition in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the Data	Where it processes such data for archiving purposes, the College is required to implement appropriate saleguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely course substantial distress to a data subject, and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing in secessary include the purposes of approved medical research.
3	Conservation information relating to items in the College library and archives and other collections, including the identity of who carried out the conservation and of the item on which the conservation measures were performed.	We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party	To maintain a record of conservation measures applied to items in our library and archives and other collections to help with future conservation.	Permanently.		The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining records of conservation measures which will assist future conservators to make decisions about the appropriate conservation techniques to use.	N/A
4	Personal papers and collections donated to the College archive. These may consist of correspondence and documents relating to and/or referring to the donor or third parties.	We obtain this data from you We may receive this from third parties (e.g. donors)	maintain papers and collections of significance to the College or which are otherwise of	Permanently.	Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone delse's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	The College has a legitimate interest in receiving collections and papers for its archive, and donors have a legitimate interest in giving such collections and papers to the College.	Processing is necessary for archiving purposes in the public interest and for research purposes as permitted under the UK Data Protection Act	There is a public interest in the College maintaining its archive of College life for future generations, and in the context of the College being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diarnage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes of which the processing is necessary include the purposes of approved medical research.	condition in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the Data
S	Records of the acquisition of items in the library and archives and other collections, including who the item was received from and the date of receipt. Catalogues, indexes and lists of items in the library and archives and other collections including the same information.	We generate this data about you	To maintain a record of the content of our archive and how it was acquired, as a record in its own right and in case enquired as subsequently made about the archived item (itself (for example, about ownership of the item).	Permanently.	Processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	The College has a legitimate interest in recording, indexing and cataloguing its acquisitions in the library, archives, and other collections.

6	Archives of academic conferences, seminars and lectures hosted and/or	We obtain this data		Permanently.	Processing is necessary	The College has a legitimate interest in
1	organised by the College, consisting of the names of attendees,	from you			for compliance with a	archiving past conferences, seminars and
1	agenda/programmes, papers delivered.				legal obligation	lectures that it hosted and/or organised.
1						· -
1	These records may include the personal data of attendees and				Processing is necessary	,
1	organisers.				for the purposes of ou or someone else's
					legitimate interests, except where
1					overridden by your
1					data protection rights and freedoms
1
7	Student files including dates of attendance, course of study and	We generate this data	So that we have a record of student results, as	Permanently.	Processing is necessary	The College has a legitimate interest in	Processing is necessary	There is a public interest in the College	The processing meets a	Where it processes such data, the College is
1	outcome of their studies, results of College examinations ("collections"),	about you;	a record of your academic progression and if		for performance of our	maintaining an archive of its activities as part of	for archiving in the	maintaining its archive of College life for future	condition in Part 1 of	required to implement appropriate safeguards
1	University examinations, College and University assessments, awards,		we are later asked for a reference or		contract with you;	a long established university with a strong	public interest, and/or	generations, and in the context of the College	Schedule 1 to the Data	for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK
1	scholarships and prizes conferred, applications (e.g. UCAS forms and	We obtain this data	verification of your attendance.			identity and history, and in maintaining such	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University	Protection Act 2018	Data Protection Act provides safeguards by
1	references), and academic records.	from the University of	·		Processing is necessary	records for future research.	purposes.	with a strong identity and history.		making specific provision preventing processing
1		Oxford.	To maintain the College archive of its former		for the performance of					which is likely to cause substantial damage or
	These files may include information about a former student's personal		students and to historically document the		a task carried out in			The College is required to implement		substantial distress to a data subject; and/or life including their health, family circumstances, ethnicity, sexuality,		College's teaching function, and for the		the public interest;			appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights		which is carried out for the purposes of College's teaching function, and for the purposes of future research.		ure public interest;			appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, criminal convictions		purposes of future research.		L					measures or decisions with respect to a
	or allegations, gender, background, family circumstances and/or				Processing is necessary	1		provides safeguards by making specific		particular data subject, unless the purposes for financial circumstances.				for the purposes of ou			provision preventing processing which is likely		which the processing is necessary include the
					or someone else's			to cause substantial damage or substantial		purposes of approved medical research.
1					legitimate interests,			distress to a data subject; and/or which is
1					except where			carried out for the purposes of measures or
1					overridden by your			decisions with respect to a particular data
1					data protection rights			subject, unless the purposes for which the 1					and freedoms.			processing is necessary include the purposes of approved medical research.
								approved medical research.
8	Employee records for academic staff consisting of the employee name,	We obtain this data	To maintain historic records of College	Permanently.	Processing is necessary	The College has a legitimate interest in	Processing is necessary	There is a public interest in the College	The processing mosts a	Where it processes such data, the College is
ľ	dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for		employees for the archive, and in case we are	remanently.			for archiving in the
		from you We generate this data			for the purposes of ou or someone else's	maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong		maintaining its archive of College life for future generations, and in the context of the College		required to implement appropriate safeguards example retirement, new employment or dismissal), and photographs.
1			approached for references.
		about you	approunted for references.		legitimate interests,	identity and history, and in maintaining such	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by approached for references.		legitimate interests, except where					Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing approduct to references.		legitimate interests,	identity and history, and in maintaining such	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by opposition of references.		legitimate interests, except where	identity and history, and in maintaining such	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing appropriate to reference.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or approaches of references.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of application references.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a approached to reference.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for agendative and activations.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the which the processing is necessary include the agendated of actual and		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for agendated an actual areas.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the agendance of actual and		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diadrese or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the agendative and activative.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the which the processing is necessary include the agendance of actual energy		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diadrese or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the agendative of activations.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the which the processing is necessary include the opposition of activities.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specials provides and protection preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial distress to a data subject, and/or which is carried out for hurpoops of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes of mothis the purpose of mothis the subject, unless the purposes of which the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the which the processing is necessary include the opposition of activities.		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the which the processing is necessary include the opposition of the character		legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the which the processing is necessary include the
					legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the which the processing is necessary include the
					legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
					legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
					legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
					legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
					legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
					legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
		about you			legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff.	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee	about you We obtain this data	To maintain historic records of College	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where except where except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff.	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, rolle(s) and reason(s) for departure	about you We obtain this data from you	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our processing is necessary for the purposes of our processing is necessary.	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff.	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee	about you We obtain this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where except where except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff.	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, rolle(s) and reason(s) for departure	about you We obtain this data from you	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our processing is necessary for the purposes of our processing is necessary.	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff.	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for example retriement, new employment or dismissal), and	about you We obtain this data from you We generate this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our someone else's	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for example retriement, new employment or dismissal), and	about you We obtain this data from you We generate this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our someone else's legitimate interests, except where	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for example retriement, new employment or dismissal), and	about you We obtain this data from you We generate this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research.	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for example retriement, new employment or dismissal), and	about you We obtain this data from you We generate this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purpose of our someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for example retriement, new employment or dismissal), and	about you We obtain this data from you We generate this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for example retriement, new employment or dismissal), and	about you We obtain this data from you We generate this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purpose of our someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the
9	Employee records for non-academic staff, consisting of the employee name, dates of employment, role(s) and reason(s) for departure (including for example retriement, new employment or dismissal), and	about you We obtain this data from you We generate this data	To maintain historic records of College employees for the archive, and in case we are	Permanently.	legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purpose of our someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College being able to provide references for former staff. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research. The College, its former employees and other parties have a legitimate interest in the College	for historical research	being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial diargue or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of processing is necessary include the purposes of the purpose of the		Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject; and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the

10	Governing body and committee agenda, minutes and related correspondence. These may include personal data of the meeting attendees, correspondents and of individuals referred to in the documents.	We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	To maintain a historic record of College administration.	Permanently.	for the purposes of our or someone else's	The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research.	for archiving purposes in the public interest as permitted under the	There is a public interest in the College maintaining its archive of College life for future generations, and in the context of the College being a College of a long-established University with a strong identity and history. The College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject, and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes of which the processing is necessary include the purposes of approved medical research.	condition in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the Data	Where it processes such data, the College is required to implement appropriate safeguards for individuals' rights and freedoms. The UK Data Protection Act provides safeguards by making specific provision preventing processing which is likely to cause substantial damage or substantial distress to a data subject, and/or which is carried out for the purposes of measures or decisions with respect to a particular data subject, unless the purposes for which the processing is necessary include the purposes of approved medical research.
11	Financial records and legal records relating to College assets and the College estate. These may include the personal data of individuals involved in managing the College assets and estate, witnesses and parties to legal documents.	We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	To maintain a historic record of College finances and assets.	Permanently.	for the purposes of our or someone else's	The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research.
12	Records relating to College buildings, including architectural records and maintenance records. These may include the personal data of those involved in construction and maintenance of College buildings.	We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	To maintain a historic record of College architecture, and to assist future conservation of College buildings.	Permanently.	for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest;	The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining its historic buildings. It also has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its activities as part of a long established university with a strong identity and history, and in maintaining such records for future research.
13	Governance documents: College statutes and documents relating to their interpretation, including Privy Council documents and correspondence, decisions and documents relating to the College Visitor, Royal Commissions and related documents. These records may include the personal data of those named in the documents, including correspondents.	We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	To maintain a historic record of governance documents relating to the College.	Permanently.	for the purposes of our	The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its governance documents for future reference.				